

Learning is Liberated!!

Course Library

It's easy to deploy the training you've purchased and create your own free Learning Platform for distributing the curriculum within your organization.

- After selecting the course you would like to purchase, and the number of licenses you need, you will be guided through a payment process.
- After completing checkout you will be provided with a choice, asking you if you would like to set up a Course Library, by clicking here you will enable your own Learning System.

The course you purchased now resides in your own Learning Management System.

Now, the person who has purchased the course, is the Learning Management System administrator and will have all of the following functionality included:

- The Ability to create a specific Branded URL to send learners to train
- Ability to Invite users /create/or upload spreadsheets of users
- Have Messaging Capabilities
- Create and administer Discussion Forums

Now you can distribute as many licenses to the courses you've purchased on Coggnno, and in the future whenever you need more training courses, simply purchase the courses you need, and they will be available in your own branded Learning Management System.
