

Learning is Liberated!!

Syndication: Publisher

Publishing syndicated training is a tremendous means to expand your audience, generate traffic on your site and most importantly increase your revenue.

It's easy; simply register at Coggno, it's free!

To find syndicated training to publish, simply go to the Coggno Marketplace where you can search the different training modules available.

The Coggno Marketplace has a variety of courses to choose from: safety training, health care, HR, Management resources, compliance, and lots more. Just choose which one is relevant to your site.

OR

You can choose the option For Sale plus Syndication, which gives the list of courses that is pre-approved by the content creators.

- Choose the training you would like to put on your site.
- Please Review the syndication rules, and sale share, and then click publish.
- If approval is required, a message will be sent to the content creator. If not, proceed to your published content page.
- And click on the training you are publishing.

Here you will see the details of what you are publishing.

- Now choose the type of link to the training you would like to place on your site.

- When you select one, the corresponding HTML code will appear in the box. Simply copy and paste this code on to the page on your site.
- If the author has enabled rebranding, click on the branding tab. Here you can create a title, grab and upload your logo, change the background and foreground colors to match your site.

You are all done and ready to sell training on your site.

As sales are made, the revenue will appear in your accounting tab. You can withdraw proceeds at any time by clicking the “Withdraw Funds” link.

Coggnno makes it simple for you!
